The Newcastle upon Tyne (Electoral Changes) Order 2017

This Order makes changes to the electoral arrangements for the city of Newcastle upon Tyne following recommendations made by the Local Government Boundary Commission for England. The area of the city remains unchanged. There are changes to the parish council ward boundaries in Woosington to take effect in 2019.

New Legal Guidance

The national NALC's Legal Dept. has published two new legal briefings: L08-17-Privacy Notices and the Legal Basis for Processing Personal Data explains GDPR's requirements concerning privacy notices and the criteria to make the processing of personal data lawful; and L09-17-General Data Processing Regulation and Subject Access Requests covers a person's right to access and modify information about themselves and the need for all local councils to maintain records showing what the power is for the data processing that they are doing and evidence of consent from the people concerned.

Copies are available in the Members' area of their website or from this office (for Member Councils).

The General Data Protection Regulations

Subscribers to the Enews may have seen comments in other outlets on the implications for businesses, charities, councils and others when these regulations come into effect in May 2018.

I am attending a national NALC workshop on 21 November and I shall be distributing more information to Member Councils later in the week.

Who owns Commercial Land?

HM Land Registry is making available, for free, data on land or property in England and Wales where the registered legal owner is a UK company or corporate body, or an overseas company. I am starting to explore how to use it and would welcome any comments from others please. More details are at

Our Day - from the national NALC's CX

Whether it's from my travels around the country visiting county associations and councils, the Star Councils or Council Spotlight initiatives or our '150 Points of Light' compendium, I know only too well about the great things our councils do to improve communities. Which is why I think it's really important we use every opportunity to celebrate your achievements and shout about them from the rooftops! So I want to strongly encourage you – councillors, chairmen, mayors, leaders, clerks or other staff and county association colleagues – to get involved in this year's #OurDay on Tuesday 21 November.

Organised by the Local Government Association, #OurDay is an annual tweetathon that gives everyone who works or volunteers in local public services the chance to share their stories of how they improve the quality of life of their residents. And it's really easy to get involved – simply tweet us @NALC using the #OurDay hashtag with your council's top achievements from 2017. We want to know anything you have done to benefit your community. Remember, images and videos help tell your story so make sure you tweet them out too! Do also sign up to the #OurDay thunderclap which will help get the hashtag trending. We'll be playing our part by tweeting out case studies and stories from throughout the year. If you've already decided to get involved please let Ben Murray know at ben.murray@nalc.gov.uk, more information is also available at the #OurDay webpage. If you're not on Twitter yet, here's some simple help signing up so you can get involved!
